Specialized Miniature Laser Diode Modules

Edmund Optics: Offers miniature LDM focusable laser diode modules that are self-contained and compact. These modules provide adjustable focusing lenses for elliptical or circular beams, suitable for alignment, bar code reading, measurement, scanning, and robotic control. Accessories like line generators are available, and power supplies are sold separately.

Frankfurt Laser Company (FLC): Supplies a wide range of laser diodes including FP, DFB, DBR, VCSELs, and quantum cascade lasers. They provide miniature modules, fiber-coupled options, and custom solutions for hard-to-find wavelengths or packaging.

FL

C also offers complementary accessories like collimator optics and laser diode drivers.

Key Considerations

Wavelength and Power: Miniature diodes are available across a broad spectrum (visible to IR) and various power levels. Beam Type: Adjustable lenses allow for elliptical or circular beams depending on the application. Accessories: Line generators, collimators, and power supplies may be required for operation.

Customization: For specialized applications, suppliers like FLC can provide custom packaging or rare wavelengths. For immediate procurement, DigiKey, Mouser, and Newark are ideal for in-stock orders, while Edmund Optics and FLC are suitable for specialized miniature modules or custom solutions.
