Key Takeaways

The price of a 400mm galvanized cable tray typically ranges from $50 to $120 per 2.4–3 meter section, depending on type, supplier, and specifications. Price Overview Hot-dip galvanized ladder-type trays (standard 2.

4 meters) are commonly priced around $50–$80 per section for general industrial use, depending on thickness and load capacity. Wire mesh or welded steel wire trays (3 meters long, 400mm wide) are slightly higher, ranging from $90–$120 per section, offering flexibility and corrosion resistance for outdoor or heavy-duty applications. Prices vary based on material quality, galvanization method, and supplier, with high-end galvanized trays designed for long-term outdoor or industrial use costing more.

Factors Affecting Price

Material and Coating: Hot-dip galvanization provides superior corrosion resistance, which increases cost compared to standard galvanized steel. Tray Type: Ladder-type trays are generally less expensive than wire mesh or welded wire trays due to simpler manufacturing. Length and Width: Standard lengths are 2.

4–3 meters; wider or custom lengths may increase the price. Supplier and Region: Prices differ between suppliers and countries; bulk orders often reduce per-unit cost. Typical Applications 400mm galvanized cable trays are widely used in industrial plants, commercial buildings, data centers, and outdoor installations.

They support heavy cable loads, provide ventilation, and protect cables from environmental damage. For accurate pricing, it is recommended to contact suppliers directly such as Giganet, Legrand, or Alibaba vendors, specifying the tray type, length, and quantity required.
