Key Takeaways

Elba d.o.o. and Bevec d.o.o. are among the top Slovenian manufacturers for high-quality cable tray elbows, offering precision, durability, and versatile material options. Elba d.o.o. Elba is a leading Slovenian manufacturer and distributor of electrical installation products, including cable trays and accessories.

They use advanced machinery such as TRUMPF laser machines and computer-guided bending machines, ensuring extremely low tolerances and high-quality bends for cable tray elbows. Their products can be made from stainless steel, brass, or aluminum, and powder-coated for durability and aesthetic appeal. Elba also offers expert consultation and custom manufacturing services, making them a strong choice for specialized or complex installations.

Bevec d.o.o. Bevec manufactures cable trays and a wide variety of fittings, including elbows, couplers, and other accessories. Their products are available in galvanized, hot-dip galvanized, stainless steel, or powder-coated finishes, meeting stringent environmental and industrial standards.

Bevec emphasizes adaptability and safety, providing solutions suitable for industrial, transport, and infrastructure projects. Their extensive range of bends and accessories allows for easy installation in complex floor plans, making them highly reliable for professional electrical systems.
